ABOUT ME

Hi, I am James Esau, a hardworking entrepreneur who aspires to build a sustainable and reputable business.

HISTORY

In the wake of the countrywide enforced lockdowns during the world-wide pandemic, Progress Woodworks was founded in Nyanga in the Western Cape, with the belief that progression and improvement are imminent if you work hard and you are confident in your abilities. Progress Woodworks manufactures kitchen and bedroom cupboards, wooden door frames, as well as cabinets and shelving.

VISION

To be an honest and hardworking business that can provide competitive prices for quality goods.

MISSION

To build a sustainable and reputable furniture-manufacturing company specialising in wood as raw material.

HIGHLIGHTS

After two years, Progress Woodworks has been able to establish itself as a reliable business that is embedded in the community it cares for where, for instance, James and his staff repaired the cupboards at a house where children are looked after.
