

THOUGHT YOU COULDN'T SOURCE LOCALLY-GROWN
SUSTAINABLE SALIGNA FOR YOUR FURNITURE? THINK AGAIN!

MERENSKY

Merensky is recognised as the pioneer of commercially-grown sawlog-rotation Eucalyptus (Saligna), with decades of continuous genetic improvements resulting in world-class lumber.

Our kiln-dried hardwood lumber is ideal for use in furniture manufacture and joinery. Take advantage of the knowledge and experience of our sales team, who are fully supported by our dedicated sawmill and network of strategically-placed distribution centres and sales offices.

Worldwide, the value of certified sustainable Eucalyptus timber is increasingly recognised. Manufacturers of new-generation products are adopting Eucalyptus as a sustainable alternative to endangered hardwoods species and non-renewable, carbon-intensive materials.

Merensky's elite genetic plant material, world-class silviculture regimes and specialised processing and kiln-drying produce superior hardwood lumber.

Typical uses include indoor, outdoor, school and office furniture, as well as specialised products like decking and flooring. Other applications include door manufacturing, mouldings, laminated products and other types of joinery.
